Nutraceuticals Outlook

Thailand is one of the biggest markets in the APAC region, the Thai Ministry of Commerce reported sales of $3.5 billion across the nutraceuticals industry back in 2019

According to the report, the Asia-Pacific nutraceutical market is segmented into three product types, including dietary supplements, functional beverages, and functional foods.

In Asia-pacific, The nutraceutical segment is expected to grow 7.5% CAGR from 2020-2025, with the value of $140 billion. The three biggest consumer markets are China, Indonesia, and Japan, respectively.

Nutraceuticals Outlook

According to the research report titled Asia-Pacific Nutraceuticals Market Outlook, 2027, published by Bonafide Research, the market is anticipated to expand at more than 9% CAGR for 2022–2027. And the Asia-Pacific region held the highest market share in the global nutraceutical market in 2021.

The long-established trend toward proactively managing health and well-being has been brought into sharper focus by the COVID-19 pandemic, according to the Innova Market Insights.

According to Euromonitor's 2020 Lifestyles Survey, more than half of South East Asian consumers believe that they will be healthier in five years than they are now, and they believe that climate change will impact them more, five years from now.
